

Why Don't You Care?

VERSE 1

What you believe came from those around you.
Same goes for them,
and so on and so on and so on.
The sooner we lose our preconceptions,
the sooner we can reach higher ground.

There is no universal starting line.
That face you saw
has a story all its own.
We don't get what we deserve,
that's a fallacy.
But the wings of butterflies rule the earth.

CHORUS

Why don't you care?
Why can't you see what I can see?
It's not that hard
to wonder what if it were me?

No one wants to be in need.
No one wants to feel pain.
No one asked to be born.
We all want to feel safe.

Why don't you care?
Why can't you think of someone else?
It's not that hard
to just pretend you're not yourself.

No one wants to feel lost.
No one wants to feel shame.
We're all the same
and in the blink of an eye,
we are gone.

SHORTENED VERSE 2

One mile to walk is not enough.
Who would you be
if the tables had been turned?
Why do people have a fear
of sharing happiness?
There is room for all of us to be here.

SHORTENED CHORUS

Why don't you care?
Why can't you see what I can see?
It's not that hard
to wonder what if it were me?

No one wants to feel lost.
No one wants to feel shame.
We're all the same
and in the blink of an eye...

CODA

and so on and so on and so on.
Some will care,
some will feel.
We will look for better answers
To bring meaning to each and every life.
